BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS!

Closer Still the Contest Grows, Every Inch Contested.

Hundreds of Ballots Since Last Report

Leave Leaders Neck and Neck.

Only Fifteen Days More and the Victor Will Be Known.

IF YOU HAVEN'T VOTED, DO IT QUICKLY.

The Popular Lady Contest this week shows an increased vote but no material changes. The two leading contestants are closely matched and it is becoming evident that the contest will be decided in the closing days, by the reserve strength. Just how many coupons are being saved up is a matter of conjecture, but these are being clipped everywhere for use at the wind up. Miss Baker has held her own since last report, though by a reduced lead.

The feature of this week's report is the addition of 500 to Miss Day's vote, putting her well in the lead as third, with more than 3,100 votes. The total votes since last report have been about 1,000, making the total 21,000. The vote to date is:

Miss Alberta Baker, Julien, 4942
Miss Tony Ware, city, 4907
Miss Essie Day, Crofton, 3175
Miss Daisy Rice, city, 2826

HENRY-CLARDY.

Marriage of Prominent and Popular Couple To-Day.

Col. Jouett Henry and Mrs. Lizzie Clardy will be married this afternoon at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. Frank Lewis, in Washington.

Col. Henry was accompanied to Washington by Congressman-elect A. O. Stanley, of Henderson.

The bridal couple will return this week and board at Mr. D. W. Kitchen's.

Col. Henry is popular and prominent in several different capacities. He is Mayor of the city of Hopkinsville, Lieutenant Colonel of the Third Regiment of Kentucky State Guards, Grand Chancellor of Kentucky Knights of Pythias, and District Deputy of the Grand Lodge of Elks. He is a handsome bachelor of splendid physique and military bearing.

He was with his regiment in the Porto Rico campaign in 1898.

He has lived in Hopkinsville all his life, having been born here about 40 years ago, and is quite popular in official, business and social circles.

His bride is the widow of the late John F. Clardy, who was a son of Dr. J. D. Clardy. She is a good many years Col. Henry's junior, and is a most captivating and accomplished lady. The best wishes of many friends will attend the couple whose union has taken place under such auspicious circumstances.

TEN YEARS FOR THOMAS.

Slayer of Alfred Bridges Convicted of Manslaughter.

The jury in the case of John S. Thomas charged with the murder of Alfred Bridges, near Maple Grove, Trigg county, about a year ago, returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter at Cadiz Saturday and fixed his punishment at ten years in the penitentiary.

The case was called for trial last Wednesday and consumed nearly four days.

HON. JOHN C. DUFFY

Candidate For Commonwealth's Attorney of the Third District.

Mr. John C. Duffy, of this city, whose announcement appears in the Kentuckian, is making an active canvass of the district and meeting with a kind reception wherever he goes.

Mr. Duffy is a native of West Virginia and has been a resident of Hopkinsville for about nine years. He graduated from the University of Nashville and came here as an instructor in South Kentucky college in 1894. He read law in this city and was admitted to the bar in 1896.

The following year he was nominated for representative and made an active canvass of the county, reducing the Republican majority in the fierce fight of a county election, nearly 900 votes. Only two Democrats on the county ticket received more votes than he did. In every campaign since '97 he has been one of the most effective stumpers in his party. In 1900 especially, in the famous band wagon campaign, he was one of the principal orators.

He has built up a growing law practice in Christian and adjoining counties and has extended his acquaintance all over the district. Mr. Duffy has many strong supporters who say he is in the race to win.

FOUR SCORE AND TEN

Was This Woman Who Passed Away Last Saturday.

Miss Lizzie Owen died Saturday at the age of 90 years. She was a sister of Mr. Andrew E. Owen, of near Gracey, and the late Thos. Owen, of Sinking Fork. She had been in very bad health for some time and about two weeks ago her mind became affected and she was sent to the Western asylum. She was a member of the Baptist church. She had been making her home with the family of Mr. D. J. McClendon, near this city, for several years.

The interment took place at Brick church yesterday.

CASE REVERSED.

Moayan Matter Will be Returned Here for Trial.

The case of Moayan against Moayan, from Christian county, has been reversed by the Court of Appeals. This is a case in which Max J. Moayan entered into a contract with his estate to convey one-third of his estate to the Fidelity Trust and Safety Vault Company, of Louisville, for the benefit of his children. The case was tried in Circuit Court here on demurrer. The demurrer was sustained and the matter was taken to higher court. The case will now be returned here for trial on its merits.

SEATED IN BUGGY

When Ceremony Was Performed Uniting Them in Marriage.

Cooper R. Miller and Miss Hattie Perdue, young people living near Perry's School House, were united in marriage while seated in a buggy in front of the court house. Judge Fowler officiated.

Special Deputy Appointed.

Mr. Frank Jamison has been appointed a special deputy sheriff to execute papers, preparatory to the opening of Circuit Court.

Died of Dropsy.

Sam Talley, col., aged 50 years, died at his home near Longview Saturday, of dropsy.

Deputy County Clerk.

Mr. Thos. Green, Jr., has been appointed deputy County Clerk of Christian county.

HEAVY SALES

Of Loose Tobacco On Local Market Last Week.

About 200,000 pounds of tobacco was sold loose on the floor by Woolbridge & Co., last week. No fine leaf was offered, but prices were very satisfactory for the kinds appearing. The sales were made up of the weed from Christian, Todd, Muhlenberg, Trigg and Caldwell principally. Prices ranged as follows: Common lugs, $34.25 to $4.60; medium lugs, $4.60 to $5; common leaf, $5.50 to $6; medium leaf, $6 to $7; good leaf, $7 to $8.

The weed has been coming in from every direction during the past few days and the sales this week will likely be much larger than those of last week. There were no sales yesterday, but today the sale of loose tobacco will be resumed.

AT B. F. COLLEGE.

The Young People Have a Pleasant Evening.

The pupils' recital at Bethel Female College Friday night proved to be a very successful and pleasant affair. There were songs, recitations, instrumental music and other entertaining exercises. A large crowd attended and after the recital was over, the young ladies received their friends in the college parlors.

MRS. MASON'S SALE.

Good Prices Realized for Everything Sold.

The sale of Mrs. L. A. Mason's personal property, at the Square, Thursday, was attended by about 2,000 people and prices ruled high on everything. Mules especially brought fancy prices and were sold for $3 a barrel. Col. Jno. T. Evans, of Trenton, was one of the auctioneers.

FULLER-FULLER.

North Christian People to be Married Tomorrow.

Mr. W. G. Fuller and Miss Parthena H. Fuller, daughter of Esq. B. F. Fuller, of the Crofton neighborhood, will be married tomorrow night at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Fred Whittenbaker, of Sinking Fork, will officiate.

Sleighs in Order.

Sleighs made their appearance on the streets yesterday with a merry jingle of bells. The snow is about four inches deep, the heaviest of the season.

COLEMAN QUILTS.

Issues a Card Explaining Why He Will Not Run For Circuit Judge.

Hon. Chas. H. Coleman, of Murray, who has been prominently spoken of as a candidate for circuit judge has issued his withdrawal card, appearing below, explaining why he will not continue in the contest.

"Having an ambition to be judge of this district, some time ago I went through the county seats in the district, investigating the situation, and received much encouragement to make the race throughout the district, but especially in my home county, so much that I made up my mind to formally announce my candidacy. Just at this time the judicial district committee was called to meet in Kuttawa on the 10th of January, 1903. On this date they did meet, and against former precedents, and over the expressed objections and protests of seven out of nine prospective candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney (at that time there being no announced candidates) the said committee called a primary election for May 9th, 1903, as I then said and yet believe, in the interest of machine politics.

"This action on the part of the committee makes it impossible for me to make the race, with much, if any hope of success—since I am a total stranger outside of the county seats, in all the four counties comprising the district, except my own, and there not being sufficient time, considering the condition of the public roads, and that 30 days of time will be taken up in the April term of circuit court, to make the acquaintance of the voters of the other counties.

"I regret exceedingly that I am forced out of the race and desire to say to my friends who have so kindly manifested an interest in my success, that I appreciate to the fullest extent, all that has been done or said, by you, and each of you, and when I can serve you, command me. Yours truly,
JAS. H. COLEMAN.

Tendency of the Times.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proved in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with absolute confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by C. K. Wily, druggist.

Charged With Wrecking Trains.

A Southern freight train was wrecked at Evansville the latter part of January. An open switch was the cause. At the same time an effort was made to wreck an Evansville & Terre Haute passenger. Gilbert Jones has been arrested charged with the crime of opening switches.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months; the doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Horchound Syrup and it cured him. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds has no equal." 25c 50c and $1 a bottle at R. C. Hardwick.

Archbishop Enthroned.

Dr. Randall Davidson has been enthroned as Archbishop of Canterbury, in Canterbury Cathedral.

Stock Panic.

A panic in Wall Street involving millions of dollars, is no more racking than the panic which seizes a man when he realizes that he is hopelessly in the grasp of constipation, or any other form of stomach or bowels trouble. Chamberlain's Syrup Pepsin is the only guaranteed cure for these troubles. For sale by all druggists.

STATE FAIR.

Directors Appointed for the Various Departments.

Louisville, Ky., February 9, '03. The Executive Committee of the Kentucky State Fair Association has organized for this year's work, preparatory to holding the State Fair in Owensboro, beginning September 21st. The committee announces that in addition to the State appropriation of $15,000, they have secured from $5,000 to $6,000 in additional appropriations from the Live Stock Association of this country. Secretary L. B. Shropshire makes the following announcement of additional sums secured, and of the appointment of directors of the various departments of the State Fair. The American Hereford Breeders Association has offered $500. We only got $300 from this source last year. The Association of Short Horn Breeders will give $1,000, and Aberdeen-Angus Association, which gave nothing last year has promised $300. The Polled Durham Association, $300. There will also be special appropriations from various other sources.

The committee appointed the following directors for the various departments:

Shorthorn.....T. M. Hornsby
Hereford.....W. H. Giltner
Aberdeen-Angus, J. W. O'Bannon
Polled Durham & Galloway.....D. L. Moore
Jersey.....R. W. Sewell
Horses and Ponies, W. L. Caldwell
Mules and Jacks.....Jas. Taggart
Swine.....Caldwell Norton
Sheep.....J. C. Shropshire
Poultry, Pigeons, Belgian Hares, Flowers and Plants, Woman's Department.....Lafayette Green
Vegetables, Tobacco, Grain and Seed, Farm Implements and Machinery and Mineral Products.....W. W. Neal
Grounds and Privileges, G. A. Birch
Each director will appoint one superintendent for each department.

Hit by the Machine.

The editor of the Clinton Gazette is very much wrought up over Governor Beckham supplanting the editor's brother on the board of equalization with one in line with the Frankfort machine. While we believe the editor of the Gazette has good grounds for his complaint, yet we know of no man in Western Kentucky who was any better posted on Beckham's style of using the governor's office for his own selfish purposes, than our Clinton contemporary. It is a notorious fact that if Governor Beckham had a constable to appoint that he would first sound the machine element in that county before naming the man.

Every appointment made by Beckham has exhibited a policy saturated with the essence of utilizing the high duties of his office to the erection and maintenance of a political machine designed to perpetuate himself in office. And any man who expected preferment at Beckham's hands was certainly blind to conditions recognized by every observant person in the state, if he did not see that opposition to the Beckham machine meant political annihilation at the hands of the young politician now at the head of affairs in Kentucky.

And from what we had recently observed in and about Hickman county we were of the opinion that some old friends had been discarded or forsaken for the new ones.

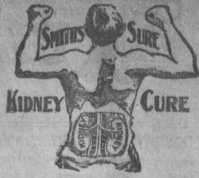

Here's hoping that the bitter lessons learned in the school of experience may redound to the upbuilding and spreading of the good work towards putting men and not party politicians in office.—Paduchak Register.

The Flower Game.

There is a card for each guest, with the name of a flower written this way: E. O. R. S., for rose, and so on. (Rose is the easiest and of course; the other flowers are harder to guess.) You can put five names of flowers on each card or as many as you like and they must be written out by each guest, allowing so long a time.

SIGNOR ZANARDELLI.

Although a Thorough Democrat, Italy's Prime Minister is Highly Esteemed by His King.

Italy is particularly fortunate in having two really strong men at the head of her affairs. Signor Zanardelli, the premier, and Sig. Giolitti, the minister of the interior. The situation is, however, curious as these two men, although never having been real rivals, are as jealous of each other as a couple of women. But notwithstanding this they have worked in harmony in the same cabinet for over two years, recognizing the fact, perhaps, that they are necessary to each other, and that the retirement of either would mean the certain fall of the ministry.

SIGNOR ZANARDELLI.
(Premier of Italy and Friend of King Victor Emmanuel.)

Sign. Zanardelli's democratic principles have interfered with his political ambition, as in the days of King Humbert democratic principles were at a discount and any effort to depart from the accepted way was nipped in the bud.

Once Zanardelli was requested to form a cabinet, and, thinking young blood necessary, chose comparatively unknown men, some of them now the highest in the political world of Italy. King Humbert looked at the list and then at Zanardelli and said severely: "These are the under-secretaries, of course, and the ministers?" That day Sig. Crispi again took the helm, and the career of the new premier was considered at an end.

The prime minister is exceptionally tall and thin, usually badly dressed, with a stoop about his shoulders, but a power in the cabinet much above the ordinary. At court he is no better liked than the minister of the interior, although the king supports and values him above all. Last Christmas, as is customary, he and the cabinet asked an audience of the queen's mother, who replied refusing, saying that it was too soon after her husband's death, but that she had not prevented her from receiving the Saracco cabinet one year earlier, four months after King Humbert's death.

OPPOSED TO DANCING.

Nebraska's New Governor is Down on Inaugural Balls and Will Not Wear Full Dress.

The inaugural ball at Lincoln has been dispensed with because Gov. Mickey refuses to wear regulation evening clothes and positively declines to lend his countenance to dancing. Presumably he takes the old parson's view of it, that the "postles didn't dance and go around in swallow-tail coats, though John P. Robinson he says "they didn't know everything down in Judee." Still, as a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and a trustee of the Wesleyan university, the governor is justified by a triumphant election, says the Chicago Post. Gov.-elect Mickey killed the idea of a dance at the inauguration by announcing he would not attend such a function. Mr. Mickey owns a large farm in Polk county, Neb., and is president of the Occola state bank. He has been county treasurer and member of the legislature.

JOHN H. MICKEY.
(Governor of Nebraska Who Objects to Balls and Full Dress.)

Mice in Last Year's Hat. A New York street car incident a few days ago should furnish a dreadful warning to women who wear last year's hats. A tolerably young and charming woman boarded a suburban car on the other side of the river, and after having seated herself discovered that her hat was alive. The next instant saw the millinery on the floor and the woman standing on the floor with skirts lifted rather indecorously high. Four mice scampered around the floor in great consternation at having been dispossessed of their tenant. After the mice were killed the woman explained that the hat was an old one which she had not worn for a year.

A STRONG MAN

Has the advantage over a weak man in the world of work. Physical strength is made from food when it has been digested and assimilated. There is no other way in which strength can be made except from food. There's many a weak man who is unable to do hard and heavy work because the food he eats is not perfectly digested and so fails to nourish the body. He has stomach "trouble" in some form.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It builds up the body with solid flesh and strong muscle, by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia for over two years, and I was a complete physical wreck," writes Mr. Preston E. Fenstermaker, of Egypt, Lehigh Co., Pa. "I had many torturing, gnawing and burning pains—I think about all that a dyspeptic has or ever could have. I also suffered much with constipation. Muscles were soft and flabby, circulation poor and slow. Suffered greatly from cold hands and feet. At last I came across an advertisement of Dr. Pierce's and I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I used about eight vials of the 'Pellets' and ten bottles of the 'Discovery,' which brought me back to my former state of health."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and of which you know nothing.

The sluggish liver is made active by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

How Can I Keep Up with the Times?

It is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says: "I know that through its columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says: "I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."

GIRLS' TRIALS.

Conceded Man Never Can Understand Their Coquettish Ways.

Political economy was the assigned subject for discussion at the "Girls' Social Reform club," but, with their usual consistency, says the Chicago Daily News, the girls had branched off on the topic of man.

"The most aggravating experience I ever had," said the best-dressed girl, "was with a north side man. He was an awful bore, but his lovely trap and fast trotters were irresistible, so I went riding with him whenever—" "I cannot bear to be under obligations to anyone I dislike," interrupted the independent girl.

"I wasn't under any obligations to him, for if I listened, or even pretended to listen to his talk about himself I fully paid for the ride," was the spirited reply.

"Well, I would rather pay my own way and sit in the gallery than to occupy a box at grand opera with a man I don't like."

"Your ideas sound well, my dear, even if they are not practicable. But, should you stay at home a great many times if we waited for men we like—" "Go on with your story," commanded the president, with dignity.

"We were driving on the Sheridan road one afternoon," continued the best-dressed girl, "when the man told me he had been thinking it over and would just as soon marry me as not." "Gallant, chivalrous, self-sacrificing man!" was the independent girl's comment.

"What did you say?" cried the other girls.

"I saw how deeply he would take my refusal to heart, so I told him gently that I never intended to marry—that I was devoted to my music."

"Oh," groaned the club. "You an up-to-date girl, using such an obsolete form! Why didn't you bring in the sister act?"

"Be still until I finish. The worst is yet to come. Shortly after that day Marie returned from California and we both received that man's wedding invitations. We compared notes and found that he had proposed to us both the same month."

"Then, of course you made him suffer!" cried the girls.

"We attended the wedding together, and—" "I should like to have seen him get red and stammer," said the independent girl.

"So should I," was the terse answer. "While Marie was wishing her bride job he told me that he hoped I had no hard feelings toward him, but he thought he would be very happy. He couldn't get over feeling that I was in love with him."

"That was awful," murmured the club.

"I had just as disagreeable an experience," said the independent girl. "How could any man ever think that you were in love with him?" asked the best-dressed girl.

The independent girl smiled. "I know people think I am cold and dignified, but the one time I thawed I received such a shock I never recovered."

There was a murmur of sympathy among the girls.

"All winter," related the independent girl, "my sister and I had been saying nice things to a young man. It amused us and it never occurred to us that he would believe them. When he called at the house my sister would tell him how happy he was making me; then I'd tell him how he was cheering my sister. When his engagement was announced we assured him that it was pretty hard on us and said all the sweet things a girl can say to a man she doesn't care anything about. You know how that is."

"Uhm," assented the club. "To this day that man thinks we are pining away for him, and I know his wife feels sorry for us. There is no way of getting revenge, however; men are so conceited!"

"Refuse to go with men at all," suggested the president, seriously. "That would be revenge."

"I think it would be more revengeful to go with them every chance we have," said the best-dressed girl.

Feeding the Sacred Cobra.

Recently, says an Indian paper, a large crowd, composed chiefly of Khatias, assembled at Vayatspaul to offer gifts of fruit and pour libations of milk into the hole of a sacred cobra. This is an annual ceremony and is called "Nogala Chowty," or the snake-feeding ceremony. Such a quantity of milk was poured down that the cobra, to escape drowning, darted from its hiding place, scattering its devotees, and took refuge in a bush close at hand.

The Real Thing.

The joke is on the Beckham machine. They thought they would run Hendrick clean off the track, but he won't bluff. First they laid out Watterson, then it was Col. Taylor, and then Judge Black. With those men off of the track and the race narrowed down to Beckham and Hendrick, they begin to see where they are up against the real thing. Mark the prediction, Hendrick will beat Beckham two to one. Thousands of quiet, conservative men are for any one against the machine, and Hendrick will get that vote, too.—Register.

ART IN CITY STREETS.

Long Struggle Ahead for Believers in Civic Embellishment.

That the Brussels plan of decorating business houses with artistic signs is to be made a feature of the "model city," which itself is to be a feature of the St. Louis exposition, is an interesting example of the spirit of the times, says the Philadelphia Press. The world over there is a strong reaction against the commonplace and the ugly, especially in their supposed necessitated connection with business and industrial life. Naturally it is foreign towns, in foreign capitals, that the new crusade has gained the most headway and has interested the greatest number of people, as is shown in the painted Detaille's effort to regenerate Paris, but the new spirit is by no means unknown in the United States.

So far as it manifested itself here it comes from the enthusiastic young men and women trained in the up-to-date modern schools of art and architecture. With an equipment in the matter of technical ability and art knowledge far superior to what passed for school attainments 20 years ago, the architect and decorative artist of today has a fresh and knowing eye, and is not only open to potential suggestions of clever minds in other lands, but welcomes them, to say nothing of the stimulus that comes from the best work of the past. The result of this is that our office buildings, our homes, city and suburban, and even our factories, have a grace as well as an efficiency that is most gratifying for the present and encouraging for the future.

At the same time there is a long struggle ahead for those interested in civic embellishment, and hence it is worth while noting all the efforts made abroad, since these are of a distinct value in that they tend to interest a larger number year by year in this most important matter. As Detaille suggests, our streets could easily be redeemed by attractive signs as well as by picturesque fronts, and even one step counts. "The model city" at St. Louis is a capital idea.

LONDON STYLE SKYSCRAPER.

Will Be Eight Stories, with Twelve in the Center.

Victorian buildings, as it is suggested, the new structure shall be built, says the London Telegraph, will have no counterpart in this country, while reproducing features that are common in America, modified, however, to suit English requirements. On the ground floor level there will be a wide passage giving access to the central rotunda, or rendezvous, under a lofty dome. Twelve hydraulic lifts will be placed in the rotunda, an additional 12 being distributed in other parts of the premises. From the rotunda, proceed, at right angles, passages or arcades, intersecting others, eight in number in all, and these, in conjunction with two much broader arcades, into which carriages may be driven from the Strand or from the Holborn arch entrances, give frontages to commodious shops and offices. The main idea is to make a new shopping center under cover, profiting by the experience of the arcades and galleries of Paris, Brussels, and, in our own country, Birmingham.

Above this shopping floor will rise to the height of the first roof of the main facade, eight stories. By falling some way back from the street, in the center of the block, and supporting the dome, there will be four more stories. From their position these could not obstruct the light of the street. No American workmen will be employed.

The American scheme embraces many advantages without extra charge. Everything is to be included in the rent—electric lighting, hot and cold water, telephone and cleaning. At the bottom of the building, below the shops, will be a public restaurant, Turkish baths and sea deposit vaults. Among the shoals of applications which the mention of the enterprise in the city has produced, was the offer of $2,000 a year for the privilege of cleaning all the boots in the building.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Journal's Frankfort correspondent seems to think a great many "leaders" will serve as volunteer officers, although it is more than two months until the lists have to be submitted by the candidates. Does the Courier-Journal, which claims to be fair, intend to let its correspondents advocate the unlawful appointment of officers to conduct what is already an illegal primary? If not, how can the correspondent know at this time whose names will be submitted next spring?

TELEPHONE COMPETITION.

All indications point to the fact that the days of the telephone monopoly are numbered in this part of Kentucky.

The Home company, of Louisville, has brought relief to the people of Louisville and is gradually extending its lines to other cities. Bowling Green has granted a franchise to a new company and this will be connected with Louisville. Paducah has also rebelled against high prices and inferior service and has installed a new independent company in a way that is a knock-out blow to the old company. The Register says of this change:

"The decision of the retail merchants, grocers, lawyers, doctors and dentists through their committees to adopt exclusively the service to be given by the new telephone company that is now nearing completion, will enable that company to open up for business with a list that will practically cover the city and county, and we congratulate the new concern on the stroke of good business. With such a list to start with it will have no difficulty whatever obtaining hundreds of other patrons who have been in doubt as to which company they would patronize."

This plan of settling the question of two telephones answers one of the stock arguments of the telephone trust that the people "do not want two telephones."

Where there are two companies seeking the business of a city, the public patronage will naturally center upon the one company offering the best contract service.

So far as we have heard, Hopkinsville is the only city in Kentucky where the people are denied the benefit of competition in telephone service.

How long they will stand the present state of affairs remains to be seen.

In order to lessen the expense of holding the state primary May 9th, Mr. Allie W. Young, chairman of the State Central Committee, has requested the chairmen of the county committees to call for volunteers who are willing to serve as election officers on that day without pay. Mr. Young and other members of the State Central Committee will give three months' time to the party without compensation, and there ought to be Democrats enough in each county who would be glad to give at least one day in a year for the good of Democracy. All Democrats who will agree to serve without remuneration are requested to notify the county chairman, R. L. White, at once—Grayson Gazette.

Officers cannot be lawfully appointed in this way, besides the state chairman has nothing to do with appointing officers. They must be named by county committees from lists furnished by the candidates.

In this part of the state the assessments are far in excess of the amount needed to conduct the election and pay the officers for their services $2 a day. In Christian county for instance the assessment of state candidates is $3 per precinct, of judicial district candidates $12.50 and of railroad district candidates $2.25, making a total of $22.75 to the precinct. In some counties county candidates will also be assessed. This rate of assessment for the whole state would provide about $55,000, or more than three times as much as Mr. Young said the election would cost.

The March number of Everybody's Magazine begins with a detailed and vivid description of how wild elephants are caught in India. The illustrations, from photographs taken on the spot, add interest and value to this really remarkable story. Mrs. and Miss Van Vorst's factory girl series, just completed in this magazine, is followed up by the experiences of Miss Lillian Pettengill, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, who tells of her life as a domestic servant in various households. Miss Pettengill, suggests practically and forcibly the necessity for mistress and maid trying to understand each other better before reform can be made. Chalmers Roberts has made a special name for himself in Everybody's as a delightful writer of character sketches. He contributes this month a study of Joseph Chamberlain, the man, and his place in English politics. Elizabeth Robins Pennell's "Receipts from the Old Cook-Books," is a really charming review of the Kitchen Classics of our forefathers. Booker T. Washington's fourth paper on "Work with the Hands," considerably advances the interest of this series. There are seven good short stories in this number.

The Madisonville Hustler says the Bradley-Ferguson race in Hopkins was not a line up on the Governor's race. Of course no local race could be fought on state issues entirely, but the tact remains that Beckham's Grand High Muckamuck in this end of the State tore his shirt in an effort to beat Pete Bradley.

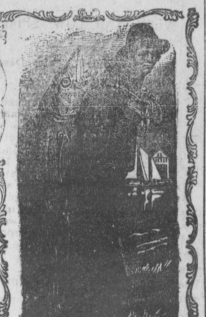

According to the Sunday papers Gov. Beckham "opened his campaign" at Mt. Sterling yesterday by calling on Chairman Allie Young at "headquarters." The nature of his business is a matter of conjecture.

"OLD ARKANSAW,"

Latest Comedy Boom, at Opera House Tomorrow night.

"Old Arkansaw," Fred Raymond's latest comedy boom, will be seen at Holland's Opera House, Wednesday evening, Feb. 18, and this should be glad news for those who like clean-cut original comedy. "Jerry," who furnishes much of the fun in "Old Arkansaw" will at once prove the favorite of those who desire a hearty laugh. "Old Arkansaw" has a plot, and a well defined one at that, it carries more scenery than the majority of the attractions seen here and it has many scenic and mechanical effects that surprise you, but good natured fun predominates in the evening's entertainment and "Jerry" and the other fun-makers invariably send the large crowds home laughing.

Arkansaw as a State has become far-famed in many and various ways, partly from her many and varied products, and greatly from the picturesque characteristics of the natives of the Ozarks. These folk have figured in song and story to such an extent that every intelligent citizen is more or less acquainted with their eccentricities, and most peculiar sense of humor. Fred Raymond, author of that famous comedy, "The Mesquite Girl," spent several months among the backwoods people, and succeeded in reproducing the most interesting of them in his new melo-dramatic comedy, "Old Arkansaw." Many a finely drawn character study, and a truly Ozark atmosphere makes the play doubly delightful. A special artist accompanied Mr. Raymond, and the scenery used in the big production is reproduced from actual sketches and photographs. The story of the play is an interesting one founded on facts, and told in a most charming and clever manner.

WOMAN DYING

When Formalin Was Injected, Now Getting Well.

The new blood poison remedy, formalin, has been used with success in Bristol, Conn., in the case of Mrs. Napoleon Dube, when apparently she was dying. After the birth of a child Mrs. Dube was attacked by blood poisoning. On February 4 the doctor announced that death would come in three to five hours. The patient was delirious, her temperature was 103° and her pulse 140. At 5:30 p. m. as an experiment, the doctor injected 650 cubic centimeters of formalin into a vein of her right arm near the elbow. For one hour the temperature continued to rise, then there was a steady gradual decrease until 6 a. m. next morning, when it was normal—98-3.5. The pulse, too, had fallen to 38. Since then the patient has improved steadily, and is now pronounced out of danger.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, vigor, beauty and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child outlives its infancy, it will suffer too often, if the urine scales the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet explaining the disease. Write at once, including many of the thousands of testimonials letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Birmingham, N. Y., on every bottle.

WORK ON TUNNEL.

Baker's Hill Project Progressing
With Fair Speed.

Work is progressing with fairly good speed on the Baker's hill tunnel that is being constructed on the line of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, beginning just north of Goodlettsville, says the American. Large forces of men are now at work on the approaches to the tunnel and a considerable depth has been reached on the shaft that is being sunk at Ridgetop. The shaft at the latter place is to be 160 feet deep and about 50 feet of this has already been dug.

It is the purpose of the contractors to have the approaches and the shaft completed at the same time and then double shifts will be engaged on the excavation on the tunnel proper. A force will be put at work at either end and at the same workers will be tunneling from the midway shaft to meet the end crews. In this way four sets of men will be employed constantly until the work is complete. It is the intention of the railroad company to have the tunnel open for trains by time of the beginning of the St. Louis Exposition.

The change in the line of the railroad at one time bid fair to seriously inconvenience the residents of Ridgetop, but since the final selection of the tunnel route the people of this thriving resort now look upon the venture as a decided improvement. The Ridgetop depot will only be removed about two blocks from its present site and the change in the railroad line will rid the town of the noise and dust of the trains. On account of the extreme elevation of the place quite a number of the business men of Nashville have built their homes on top of the ridge, and as a great deal of money has been spent there on improvements it is gratifying to the citizens of Ridgetop to know that they will not be deprived of railroad facilities.

county. He obtained a common school education in the schools of Trigg and Calloway counties, and in 1888 was appointed a cadet to the State College at Lexington. He entered college with $87 and a determination to secure an education. He studied at night, and worked mornings and evenings and on Saturdays at 10 cents an hour on the experimental farm and in the experimental station to pay expenses. It was not an easy task but a manly struggle, and in June, 1893, he graduated with first honors in the department of science, and was given a diploma of honor by act of Congress for skillful work on Kentucky's scientific exhibit at the World's Fair during his last year in college.

From '93 to '96 he was principal of the Cadiz Public School. He studied law during the time and in 1895 was admitted to the bar. He was the nominee of the Democratic party in 1895 for the Legislature, but went down in defeat with the State ticket. He was nominated by the Democrats and elected County Attorney in 1897, and in 1901 was re-elected to that position. As the attorney of the county since January, 1898, he has closely guarded the business affairs of the county and looked well to its financial interests; and in the prosecution of crime he has been able and fearless.

"His rise has not been rapid, yet step by step he has worked his way upward, and today he is recognized among the ablest members of the Cadiz bar. He is a fine speaker, and as a campaigner and organizer is without a superior in the district. The magnificent victories won by the Democracy of Trigg county during the past two or three years are due largely to his management, and his nomination by the Democrats of the district on May 9th means several hundred more votes for the ticket in November."

Mr. Smith is not a man of many words, but a man of action and devotion to duty.

"Whether upon the farm as a laborer, or in college paying his way by work; whether in the school room as a teacher or at the bar as a lawyer; whether bearing the banner of Democracy in a political campaign or at his place in the discharge of the duties of County Attorney, he has always been the same plain, laborious and painstaking worker, and applied himself fearlessly to the accomplishment of the purpose in hand. He is a splendid example of the possibilities of the American youth, and his gradual rise from a farmer boy to high rank as a business man and lawyer, should be most encouraging to the poor boys of the country."

THE OLD RELIABLE

FORMER MASTER

Given Lands Worth Millions by Ex-Slave.

Strange Story That Recalls the Ante-Bellum Days Related by Nonagenarian.

John Bowles Flannagan, of King and Queen county, Va., has come into the possession of valuable property in Omaha, Neb., in a very unique way.

Last year Flannagan received a copy of the KENTUCKIAN containing the account of a recent decision of an Omaha court sustaining a suit brought many years ago by John Flannagan, colored, against a number of wealthy citizens of Omaha for land upon which a large portion of what now constitutes the business section of Omaha is built.

The story of his life, given by old John Flannagan, is novel. He says he was born in Fluvanna County, Virginia, 90 years ago, that he was a slave of James Flannagan, a prominent citizen of the Fluvanna, in the ante-bellum days; that he well remembers his old Virginia home and his "young master," John Bowles Flannagan. During the Civil War he was hostler for Gen. Buckner. He lived for some time near Elkton, Ky., and later near Clarksville, Tenn. At the close of the war he went West with a party of settlers operating in Nebraska. He worked for an old newspaper man at Omaha for several years operating a handpress. Having no cash in hand to pay him, the old negro was given forty acres of land, considered at that time almost worthless.

Upon this the old darky built a cabin, where he has lived ever since. Although he protested and contended that the land was his during the Omaha boom days no one gave serious consideration to his claims, but took up the land and built on it. He employed counsel and took the matter into the courts, where it has been pending for many years. The case has now been finally decided in the old negro's favor.

Soon after receiving the paper giving account of old John's life, Mr. Flannagan wrote to him, who corroborates the statements made in regard to the suit. The editor of the Omaha World-Herald recently wrote to Mr. Flannagan that old John was anxious to see him, that he must come to Omaha at once, that he would rather see his "young master" than any one else, and that if he would come there he would give him all of his property valued at several million dollars.

Mr. Flannagan is now in Omaha looking after his millions.

LAST DAY

For Filing Suit for Spring Term
Has Passed.

Docket Now Made Up a Heavy One and Six Weeks Likely to be Consumed.

Last Friday was the last day for filing suits for the spring term of Christian Circuit Court. The docket is a large one and it is likely that the whole of the six weeks will be consumed in disposing of same. Henry Wheeler sues for divorce from Margaret Wheeler. They were married in 1883 and lived together until 1890. Ezerlee Randolph wants a legal separation from Robert Randolph. They were married in 1899 and lived together about three years when, the petition states, defendant was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to a term of 17 years in the penitentiary.

Feland Payne asks that the bonds of matrimony existing between himself and Minnie Payne be severed. They lived together six years and separated in 1902, states plaintiff. Peter Murphy wants to be released from the matrimonial obligation now existing between himself and Millie Murphy. Abandonment is alleged in two of the above suits. In the case of Payne vs. Payne, the plaintiff charges that the defendant has been guilty of such lewd and lascivious behavior as proves her unchaste.

Peter Murphy, colored, sues the L. & N. for $500 damages, alleging that as he was driving across the track on Second street one day last November the employees of the company on a train near by caused the steam to escape from the engine in such a manner as to frighten his horse, causing it to become unmanageable. He further states that his buggy was overturned and he was thrown out, landing in the bottom of a culvert.

Anna Royster, colored, filed suit against the company also. She wants $500 damages. Her petition is about the same as that of Murphy.

Wallace Southall through his father, G. W. Southall, brought suit against the L. & N. for $500 damages. The petition states that Wallace was in Nashville on the 10th inst. without money or means of transportation home and that his father was communicated with by telephone and paid at the company's office here the amount of a ticket from Nashville to Hopkinsville. The petition further recites that the money was not telegraphed to Wallace, as agreed, on that day and that the boy was compelled to remain over night without food or lodging and that he suffered physically and mentally and contracted a severe cold.

On Saturday Ada Bryant filed suit for divorce from Carrington Bryant, alleging abandonment. This case will not be tried until the June term.

ITCHING ECZEMA

And Other Itching, Burning and Scaly Eruptions.

Instant Relief and Speedy Cure Afforded by

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills
When All Else Fails.

COMPLETE TREATMENT, $1.00.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, teeter and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures and humor remedies of the civilized world.

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to all itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, in the severer forms, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring and humiliating skin, scalp and blood humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

IN THE GAME

Is the Hon. John K. Hendrick to the Finish.

"A well known Frankfort citizen on Thursday received a letter from a prominent and very wealthy Paducah gentleman which, among other things, contained the following:

"I just wish to say, by the way, that John Hendrick's friends need not worry about his not making an active campaign. He is in the race to a finish, and is getting warmed up, and you know what that means. He is the warmest campaigner in this State when you get him started. He is not neglecting his race, as some would have you believe, and before long those who oppose him will think this is Georgia with h-j in the foreground, and that they are up against the real thing. I have for the past ten days been assisting him with his correspondence. He gets bushels of letters of an encouraging nature. It is quite evident that there are some people in Frankfort who don't know how wrought up the people are over machine tactics. Every doubt as to the future has been swept away, and he will stay in the game, no matter if it takes $15,000 entrance fee, and I have to put it up myself. Hundreds of his West Kentucky friends stand ready to 'make good' for any amount if it should be necessary."

VOTING CONTEST.

Elegant Prize to be Given to the Most Popular Lady in Christian County.

To Be Determined by a Vote of Kentuckian Subscribers.

A VOTING contest was begun August 29, for six months, to determine by popular vote the most popular lady in Christian County. To the lady receiving the highest number of votes, we will present an elegant set of bedroom furniture, now on exhibition at Pyle & Garnett's. It is of quartered oak, of the finest make and latest style, and is worth $110. The contest will close at 12 o'clock, noon, Thursday, March 4th, 1903. The plan will be as follows: Every subscriber to the Kentuckian who pays back dues or cash in advance will be entitled to cast one vote for each five cents paid. That is to say, a subscriber who pays $2.00 will have 40 votes, one who pays $1.00 will have 20 votes and so on for any amount large or small. In every paper published there will be a coupon and these coupons when cut out and brought or sent to the office will represent each one vote. A subscriber will also have the privilege of gathering up coupons clipped by friends from their papers and voting them one at a time, or by the hundred if preferred. One will also have the privilege of buying papers at the office at five cents each and voting the coupons cut from them.

The coupon ballots will be deposited in a ballot box [with two keys. One of these keys will be held by County Judge W. T. Fowler and the other by Mayor Jowett Henry. The box will be opened not oftener than once a week, all ballots then in it taken out, counted and certified to, sealed up in an envelope and replaced in the ballot box. The envelope will contain a statement of the votes in it, so that its contents will not need to be counted again until the official count at the close of the contest.

The last week of the contest the ballots may be deposited without showing them, so that the close of the contest may be secret and exciting to the end.

DR. LORENZ'S VISIT.

It Has Excited Widespread Interest Among Medical Men.

Originator of So-Called Bloodless Operation for Congenital Dislocation of Hip Cordially Received by Our Own Surgeons.

That the visit of Dr. Adolf Lorenz, the eminent Viennese surgeon, to this country should excite such widespread interest is an event of much moment for science, probably of greater moment than the fact of the visit itself. Of course the interest was stimulated at the outset by the fact that Prof. Lorenz came in order to perform the so-called "bloodless operation," devised by himself, to correct the deformity of the child of one of our millionaires. It is also, as the independent remarks editorially, "partly due to the fact that the presence of the distinguished foreign surgical visitor has been taken advantage of to secure the extension of the benefits of his operation to some of the poorer classes in our large cities who happen to be suffering from the same deformity"—congenital dislocation of the hip. There is no doubt, however, the writer thinks, that the attention awakened can be attributed also to the fact that deformity appeals to universal sympathy, and that during the last generation or two a larger humanitarian spirit has developed. The writer goes on to say:

"Prof. Lorenz does not come to teach our American orthopedic surgeons—our specialists in the treatment of deformed children—something they did not know before. Lorenz's operation has been practiced in this country for almost if not quite a decade of years, and some of the best results attained by the use of the method invented by the Vienna professor have been reported from America. His treatment is in line with that return to the principle of taking advantage of nature's own auxiliary efforts and her manifold compensating factors for the relief of disease and deformity that characterizes modern orthopedic progress in medicine and surgery on both sides of the Atlantic.

"In certain children nature has failed to provide proper sockets for the bones of the thigh to work in—that is, it has failed to make a complete hip joint. These patients are spoken of as suffering from congenital dislocation of the hip. Sometimes the condition is not noticed until the child begins to make spontaneous movements. As they grow older they prove to be pitifully deformed and learn to walk only with great difficulty, their gait being slow and very awkward. Prof. Lorenz sets the heads of their thigh bones in their proper place and the fixes them firmly in position. The pressure of the head of the femur gradually makes for the bone an acetabulum—that is, a socket in the bone of the pelvis—in which it comes to move quite normally. Further dislocation does not occur, and the bones remaining in place perfect the original work of the surgeon by the exercise of the pressure and counterpressure that eventually gives a very practical hip-joint. The results secured by this manipulation for it is this rather than an operation that is the secret of Prof. Lorenz's successes are excellent. Patients successfully treated go through life, not as almost helpless, always pitiable cripples, but as individuals whose powers of locomotion may be somewhat impaired, though not sufficiently to hamper their application to some serious occupation."

About Eau de Cologne.

How many of those who use eau de cologne from Cologne daily, one might almost say hourly, are aware of the fact that it was invented by an Italian and not by a son of the fatherland which gives it a name? asks the Pall Mall Gazette. Almost 200 years ago an Italian priest, Giovanni Maria Farina, whose name is seen on every authentic bottle, eked out his modest fortune by selling perfumery, little art objects, and so on, at Domoedola. In 1792, happening to be in Cologne and making use of some of the finest vegetable productions of the country, he discovered the secret of the miraculous perfume, which has never been revealed to this day, except to his descendant.

Medical Ethics in China.

Chinese doctors are very particular about the distinction between physicians and surgeons. A Chinese gentleman was struck by an arrow which remained fast in his body. A surgeon was sent for and broke off the protruding bit of the arrow, leaving the point imbedded. He refused to extract it, because the case was clearly one for a physician, the arrow being inside the body.

CHARMING OLD LADY.

Mrs. Matilda Fountleroy, Head of an Ancient Family.

She Is Daughter-in-Law of Elizabeth Fountleroy, Who Refused to Marry Washington—Headless in Paducah, Ky.

Mrs. Matilda Fountleroy, who resides in Paducah, Ky., enjoys the unique distinction of being the daughter-in-law of Elizabeth Fountleroy, of Virginia, with whom George Washington was once in love.

In preference to the illustrious Father of his Country Mrs. Fountleroy married her own cousin, Joseph Fountleroy, in Frederick county, Va. She had nine children and Mrs. Fountleroy, of Paducah, is the widow of one of her youngest sons, Butler Fountleroy, who died many years ago. Mrs. Fountleroy is 82 years of age, and was 21 years younger than her husband. She is a bright, attractive lady, and takes a vivid interest in all things.

The incident of Washington having paid court to her mother-in-law she remembers quite well as a cherished tradition in the Fountleroy family. The incident is mentioned in a history of the family. In the history copies of letters written by Washington suing for the fair lady's hand are recorded. In one of these the lover pleads that Elizabeth will alter her decision and marry him if she will.

Many of these ancient epistles from Washington to Elizabeth were published in a newspaper article several years ago. In some of them the distinguished man descends to inditing some poetry to his lady love. A novel of colonial times, alluding to this affair but for no one of its characters a sprightly young woman, who remarks when she saw Washington in a riding suit, equipped for the chase, that she does not blame Elizabeth Fountleroy for refusing to marry Washington, since he is not half so good-looking as her father. Judging from pictures of the great general at that time, however, the young man must have been very handsome.

MRS. MATILDA FOUNTLEROY.
(Daughter-in-Law of Woman Who Refused to Wed Washington.)

This was some time after Washington's marriage to the Widow Custis. Mrs. Fountleroy never saw her husband's mother, but says she has heard him speak of her as a very beautiful woman. She had blue eyes and black hair, an unusual type, which is always particularly pleasing. She lived all of her life in Frederick county, Va., when she was married, and when Washington knew her. Her sons, however, came west as civilization advanced.

Her early Fountleroy settled in Montgomery county, Tenn., ere he met and married pretty Matilda Bowman, a daughter of John Bowman, who was a Revolutionary soldier. His bride was 17 and he was 28. "He asked me," said the wife, who had survived him for nearly a quarter of a century, "I did not think that he was too old for me, and I told him," a blush stealing into her withered cheek as she recalls her courtship. "Since that time, however, we were very happy."

Mrs. Fountleroy's family were Virginians, but she was born in Kentucky. Her early life, however, was spent in Virginia. "My father married my mother in Virginia," said Mrs. Fountleroy. "They were both natives of Patrick county, as my husband's people were. They moved to Kentucky and settled near Louisville. An older sister and I were born there. My brother died when my sister and I were quite small, and our father carried us both to our grandmothers in Virginia. I was given to my mother's mother, and my sister to my father's mother. We used to have many a childish quarrel as to whose grandmother was the nicest, ignoring the fact that each was our own mother."

Both of us. My mother's father, James Williams, was a congressman for a long while, and spent most of his time in Washington. I did not meet him until my father was slightly older, my father married again, and took us to live in Lexington, Ky. Later we moved to Montgomery county, Tenn., where I met my husband. We came to Paducah some years after we were married.

Mrs. Fountleroy says the New Orleans Times-Democrat, has three children, two daughters and one son. She makes her home with her oldest daughter, Mrs. J. Henry Smith, of Paducah. She is a worthy descendant of her mother, and laughingly says that they were girls together. She is "remarkably handsome despite her years, and is a worthy descendant of the fair Elizabeth. Mrs. Fountleroy's son, Thomas Fountleroy, lives near Paducah. He was a soldier in the civil war in the southern army.

TO COAL BANKS.

Madisonville Road to Be the Next Acadamized.

Contractor Duke is to Be Put to Work On North Christian Highway.

Work on the Church Hill pike is to be stopped and Contractor C. G. Duke, who had the work in hand, has been transferred to the Madisonville road and practically all of the work done on pikes this road will be concentrated on this road, which will be built in the direction of the coal banks.

This road has been metaled a few miles from town, but Judge Fowler, backed by the present Fiscal Court, will put all the money spent in building new roads this season into this main North Christian road.

Although the Cox Mill road is a very important one and should by all means be macadamized, the Madisonville road is one of general importance and its improvement will be a benefit to people all over the county, who haul coal in wagons. It will, of course, disappoint the people of Church Hill, who were aiding in the construction of their pike, to have work stopped on it and its completion indefinitely postponed, but a great many people believe with Judge Fowler that the Madisonville road should have been one of the first ones improved when the roads were freed, although the North Christian people violently opposed the turnpike tax and few of them voted for it.

BROTHER KILLS BROTHER.

In Self-Defense Charles Slays Al Davidson at Clarksville.

Clarksville, Tenn., Feb. 13.—Charles Davidson last night shot and killed his brother, Al Davidson at the home of their father, Ben Davidson, on Base Ball Hill. From the testimony given before the coroner's jury the killing was justifiable and was done in self-defense. Charles Davidson gave himself up and spent the night in custody with Deputy Sheriff Walker at his home, a few hundred yards from the scene of the killing.

The dead man was a painter by trade and was known as a peaceable citizen when sober, but had the reputation of being a bad man when drunk. He is the same man who killed Bill Lever some years ago.

Charles Davidson is a bartender and conducts the East End saloon beyond Eleventh street at his brother, Frank. He served in the Philippines with Company A, of the First Tennessee. He was a good soldier and has always been a peaceable citizen.

A LA ROOSEVELT.

Utah's New Mormon Republican Senator Distinguishes Himself.

Salt Lake City, Feb. 13.—Considerable comment and criticism has been aroused in Utah following the action of Senator-elect Reed Smoot in seating some negroes at a banquet with white people and having white girls serve them. He is quoted as saying in explanation: "If President Roosevelt is not too good to entertain a colored man at the White House, I don't see why I should not have colored people as my guests."

The occasion at which this incident took place was the banquet given last night by Apostle and Mrs. Smoot to the members of the Legislature and State officials. Invitations were given the officers of both houses of the Legislature. One of the doorkeepers of the lower house is a negro. He took his wife and two friends, with their wives. Another man is editor of a weekly paper for colored people and the third is employed as a porter. They went to the banquet and seated themselves beside some white people. Some of the guests rose and went to another table. Others, however, remained next the colored contingent.

The waiters were white girls. Several of them refused to wait on the negroes, but finally two agreed to do so. Senator Smoot himself superintended the seating arrangements.
